Committee Responsibilities & Expectations

The Young Professionals committee is designed to support our membership and the CAI Gold Coast chapter by;

- Establishing monthly meetings/events to connect members and drive engagement.
- Organize professional, educational, recreational, and volunteer events to strengthen member relationships and boost community involvement.
- Assist other chapter committees by developing an internal pool of young talent eager to get involved and make a difference.
- Foster the growth of the future leaders of our chapter and industry.
- Collaborate with the Membership committee to target existing members and attract new individuals to the committee and CAI Gold Coast chapter as a whole.
- Assist with managing and maintaining an updated platform for chapter website.

Operations / Organization

The operations and organization of the committee are intended to adapt with the growth of the group. As our group continues to evolve, so will our demands and opportunities. The initial organizational structure will be comprised of;

- Chair - The committee chair will be responsible for the growth of the group and managing external relationships both inside and out of the Gold Coast chapter.
- Vice Chair - The committee vice-chair will assist the chair and focus on the internal growth and development of our members.
- Members - The committee members will be responsible for maintaining involvement and achieving the desired culture of the group.

We will have to remain flexible and continuously identify strategies to strengthen the committee. Any organizational/operational changes must be voted on and approved during the committee's monthly meetings.
